

Barnett Award
Abstract Guidelines

The abstract is a concise summary of the research study. The abstract should concisely describe the content and scope of the research study and identifies the research studies objectives, its methodology and its findings, conclusions, and intended results. It should state the main objective and rationale of your project. The abstract can be a maximum of 250 words.