

What Is It?

CAP is a dual credit opportunity; your high school teacher meets adjunct faculty requirements and teaches the required USI content.

»» Why Do It?

CAP allows students to earn college credit before setting foot on a campus. This can save families money and accelerate college progress.

Why Shouldn't I Do It?

- Do you know you are strong in the subject and won't get a poor letter grade?
- Too many dual credits that don't apply to your college coursework could use up federal financial aid hours you'll need in college. Do you know if the courses will count as required courses or electives? Be selective.

How Do I Know If Courses Will Help Me?

- See inside the Student Permission Form for USI Core 39 Info and Core Transfer Library (CTL) course titles.
- Visit www.usi.cap/advising for videos on how to look up if a course will help you, transferability investigation and advising center contact information geared to your major for USI-bound students.
