How You Will Benefit from the Program

The Master of Public Administration Program at the University of Southern Indiana strives to meet the needs of current and future civic leaders and managers by providing students with the practical knowledge and professional and academic skills, rooted in a strong understanding of the theories of public administration, to become ethical, creative, and inspirational leaders in the public and non-profit sectors. Our graduates are prepared to meet the economic, social, and political challenges that face leading public sector institutions and non-profit organizations.

MPA

Program Curriculum

The MPA program consists of 36 credit hours that includes a core curriculum of seven courses (21 hours), and either A) a capstone seminar (3 hours) plus 12 hours of electives, or B) a thesis project (6 hours) plus 9 hours of electives.
Each certificate consists of just four classes (12 hours) and can be completed while working full time.

Admission Requirements

Applicants seeking to be admitted to the Master of Public Administration program generally hold a bachelor's degree (any major is acceptable) with at least a 3.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. Students with less than a 3.0 GPA may be admitted on a conditional basis upon review by the admissions committee.
